

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Maxwell Crispo, a fourth-year medical student, is awarded the $5000 Research Fellowship to complete a study on drug-induced neuropathy

(PORTLAND, OR.) November 27th, 2017—The Naturopathic Medical Student Association (NMSA), the student-governed nonprofit representing North American naturopathic physicians-in-training, is pleased to congratulate Maxwell Crispo on being awarded the $5,000 Research Fellowship—the Anna MacIntosh Junior Investigator Award. Max is a 4th year naturopathic medical student studying at the Canadian College of Naturopathic Medicine (CCNM). He also holds the position of “Chapter President” for CCNM’s local NMSA Chapter.

As the Research Fellow, Max will complete a study on the effect of n-acetyl-l-carnitine on drug-induced neuropathy in cancer patients after chemotherapy treatment.

“As naturopathic medical students, we are so fortunate to have the NMSA bring opportunities such as these to students...I am honoured with the chance to represent the NMSA again as a fellowship recipient. I would also like to extend my thanks to the sponsoring parties of this award, including NPLEX and the family of Anna MacIntosh...I look forward to sharing the progress of this research with the NMSA as it develops. Thank you again for facilitating its fruition.”

—Maxwell Crispo

The Research Fellowship was created in partnership with NPLEX and the family of Anna MacIntosh. This Fellowship was awarded as part of the third annual NMSA Fellowship program.
